Dear Prairie Volunteers,

With winter break right about the corner, it is a perfect time to consider family volunteering. According to a study by the School of Urban Policy and the Environment at Purdue University, there are many benefits of volunteering as a family. In addition to bringing family members together, value systems were strengthened while community needs were met. Check out our local United Way for local community volunteer opportunities.

By volunteering at Prairie Schools, you are modeling the importance of volunteering and education to your children. We appreciate your involvement.
