Meet Prairie View Elementary Volunteer
Kirian Fontana

Kirian Fontana comes to us from Brazil where she was a university professor in engineering. Upon their family relocating to Iowa, Kirian became involved with the Catherine McAuley Center tutoring program to improve her English language skills. Because Kirian has always been involved in helping others through education, she came to Prairie View to share her experiences and help others in our English Language Learners classroom. ELL teacher, Krista Oehlerich shared, "Being an English learner herself has helped Kirian understand what the children are experiencing. She is able to support students in their learning and has developed relationships with all of the students she has worked with while at Prairie View." We are very fortunate to have Kirian volunteer with us at Prairie!
